

AFRO-005: Afro-Am. Studies

This course offers an interdisciplinary introduction to important historical, political, cultural, and artistic issues concerning people of African descent in the United States. Emphasis will be placed on developing an understanding of the role of protest and resistance in African American history

Credits: 3

Program: Afro-American Studies