

AFST-372: African Political Thought

This course examines the writings of a select group of African political thinkers and actors whose ideas have influenced and still continue to influence, a large number of Africans and people of African descent abroad.

Credits: 3

Program: African Studies