

ARTG-231: Graduate Photo

Offered in a studio format, students select an area of study for further investigation. The student will examine the technological, behavioral and theoretical underpinnings of design while exploring various ways of solving problems. Students will make their selection in consultation with their graduate advisor(s).

Credits: 3

Program: Art-Graduate MFA