

CCMS-709: Community and Public Health

An interdisciplinary course addressing the role of communication in population-based approaches to community health improvement. Features problem-based learning.

Credits: 3

Program: Communication Culture And Media Studies