

CSCI-570: Advanced Algorithms

This is a theoretical and advanced course in algorithms; it will present useful techniques for solving challenging programming problems, using efficient algorithms and data structures. It will also provide advanced techniques in the analysis of algorithms and the fine-tuning of algorithms to particular systems to improve performance.

Credits: 3

Program: Computer Science