

DENT-169: General Anatomic Sciences

General Anatomical Sciences (GAS) is an 8-unit course that combines gross anatomy, neurobiology, developmental biology and evolutionary biology. An understanding of these topics is essential for the study of histology, physiology, pathology, and the clinical sciences in dentistry to supports Life-Long Learning as Dentists.

Credits: 8

Program: Dentistry