

EDUC-695: Teaching Exceptional Children

Focuses on the characteristics, identification, assessment, and instruction of students with exceptionalities. Explores special education children's syndromes and their learning environments. Includes the theories, laws, and procedures surrounding special education.

Credits: 3

Program: Curriculum & Instruction