

EECE-503: Engineering Analysis B

Vector calculus, vector fields, dyadics, tensors, boundary value problems, solution to linear homogeneous boundary value problems, separation of variables and Green's functions, two-dimensional potential problem and informational mapping, introduction to non-linear differential equations and variations and perturbation methods.

Credits: 3

Program: Electric & Computer Engineering