

ELPS-603: The College and University President or Chancellor

This course studies leadership styles, skills, roles, and functions of leaders of organizations. Students will gain a broad understanding of the history and origins of leadership, theoretical approaches to leadership, and ethical issues facing contemporary leaders.

Credits: 3

Program: Educ. Leadership & Policy