

GIST-503: Information System

Topics include hardware and software fundamentals, use of software packages, effective use of networks, Internet, and other communication tools, the design of management information systems, as well as the ethical use of computers in business and society.

Credits: 3

Program: Information Systems/Tech (GR)