

HISP-216: Oral Pathology I

This course will feature the study of diseases of the oral region with an emphasis on clinical appearance and oral manifestation of epithelial diseases and soft tissue diseases. The definition, clinical and histologic features, treatment, and prognosis of selected disease entities are presented in a didactic manner.

Credits: 2

Program: Histopathology