

HIST-328: District of Columbia History

Introduction to the major metropolitan questions, past and present, analyzing social and economic forces to physical changes. Selections from texts developed by scholarly and community-based literature.

Credits: 3

Program: History