

INTG-204: Construction & Codes of Interior Spaces

Instruction in the interior and architectural building codes, universal, accessible, and visit-ability, construction means, and methods required for built environments. Instruction in research and application of international and jurisdictional building code requirements and identification of appropriate construction methods.

Credits: 3

Program: Portfolio Development & Review