MATH-253: Algebraic Topology II

A continuation of MATH-252. Algebraic topology uses techniques from abstract algebra to study how (topological) spaces are connected. Most often, the algebraic structures used are groups (but more elaborate structures such as rings or modules also arise).
Credits: 3
Program: Mathematics