

MUSG-355: Graduate Voice Pedagogy

In this course, you will have the opportunity to learn the principles which are the foundation of all teaching methodologies. Principles learned in this class can be applied to both one-on-one teaching (singing lessons, vocal coaching) and group situations (class voice, choral music). Through readings, class lectures, guest lectures and perhaps a field trip or two, you will be exposed to the anatomy, physiology, acoustics and development of the human voice.

Credits: 3

Program: VOICE