

NURP-606: Family Primary Care of Children and Adolescents & Practicum

This course focuses on applying nursing principles in promotion, maintenance and restoration of health for infants, children and their families. Health issues and nursing concerns of children will be studied with emphasis on developmental stages, family processes, health promotion practices, and social, cultural and spiritual influences.

Credits: 4

Program: Graduate Primary Family Health