

NUTG-501: Global Health and Nutrition

Course topics include an overview of global and US public health nutrition goals, malnutrition around the globe, nutrition surveillance systems and interventions, practices and processes of local and global food markets, global food systems and legislative and regulatory policies.

Credits: 3

Program: Graduate Nutritional Science