

OCCG-616: Professional Issues & Ethics in OT

This course reviews the ethical guidelines occupational therapists must adhere to in order to maintain best practice throughout the provision of services. It considers occupational therapy scope of practice, the American Occupational Therapy Association's Code of Ethics, and the procedures associated with reporting and investigating potential breaches of that Code. Case scenarios are provided.

Credits: 2

Program: Occupational Therapy (Grad)