

PGDP-657: Methodology in Research II

2nd year residents present their hurdles in completing their research projects while their colleagues make suggestion for addressing these challenges in the Fall. In the Spring, the course enforces the statistical approaches that can be applied to individual research projects, reviews elements to include in thesis discussion section, and finalized formatting guidelines for thesis submission.

Credits: 5

Program: Postgraduate Dental Program