

PHSC-302: Research in Pharmaceutical Sciences

The course deals with an introduction to techniques and methodologies in pharmaceutical sciences research. Emphasis on literature retrieval, design/conduct of experiments on a specific problem, analysis and interpretation of data for a written report.

Credits: 3

Prerequisites:

All Department of Pharmaceutical Sciences Courses in the first-year (fall and spring); minimum cumulative GPA of 2.75; and, permission of the instructor.

Program: Pharmaceutical Science