

PHTH-701: Clinical Kinesiology

Students will learn how the body functions as a mechanical movement generator. Joint structure and function will be emphasized. Principles of biomechanics will be applied to human movement with an emphasis on gait and balance.

Credits: 3

Program: Physical Therapy