

PHYS-200: Modern Physics

Introduction to quantum physics and relativity. Includes discussion of Schrodinger equation and its application to atomic and molecular spectra, a brief introduction to lasers, solid state, nuclear physics, elementary particles. This course covers the same materials as PHYS-190, 191, however, additional assignments are given to graduate students.

Credits: 3

Program: Physics