

SWPH-378: Black Family Theory

Focuses on historical, social, cultural, political, economic and global conditions that have affected that institution. The course discusses key issues, themes and debates in the field and analyzes a variety of theoretical perspectives of examining the African-American family life.

Credits: 3

Program: Social Work Ph.D. Program