

WOMS-500: Introduction to Women's Studies

(This interdisciplinary course explores and analyzes the position of women and the role of gender in the institutions of the United States, including the family, education, government, law, the economy, and religion.

Credits: 3

Program: Women's Studies