

XACC-500: Accounting for Executives

An in-depth study of the application of accounting methods to management problems. The course is designed to allow students to gain knowledge, insights, and analytical skills related to the processes managers use in designing, implementing, and using planning and control systems to implement strategies. Topics covered include transfer pricing budget preparation, management compensation, motivation, and goal congruence.

Credits: 3

Program: Accounting (EMBA)