

COSD-467: Test and Measurements

Introduces the basics of psychometric aspects of standardized testing and methods of collecting parametric and nonparametric data to measure aspects of speech, language, swallowing, and cognitive communication for diagnostic purposes in the profession of speech language pathology.

Credits: 3

Program: Communication Culture And Media Studies